Time to Register

Centennial Celebration

Oct 6-9, 2022

IOTA ADVISORS' UPDATE

Another school year at IOTA Chapter is drawing to a close. ZBTahiti was a great success. The brothers are looking forward to formal, whitewater rafting, retreat, the graduation ritual, their annual Blood Drive, Wish for Wheels Bike Give-away, raising more money for Children's Miracle Network and more programming. This year's Inter-National Convention and Leadership School will be held this coming July in Las Vegas.

Aidan and his leadership team have stepped up and done an excellent job to returning the chapter's programming to pre-Covid levels.

Recruitment efforts were solid and they hope to return to pre-Covid initiation levels come this fall. We appreciate the support Iota has received from Zeta Beta Tau staff and volunteers as well as DU's staff.

Plans are being made for chapter house improvements this summer.

Certainly our focus will be on the upcoming 100th Chartering Anniversary Celebration. We look forward to '22-'23 being a great one for IOTA and seeing many alumni at our Centennial Celebration the weekend of Oct 6-9, 2022. Reunion forms: <http://duzbt.com/centennial-celebration/> Special thanks to Don Reisfeld our editor, alumni social media and publications director!

Also a shout out to my fellow advisors and house corporation directors listed below. Their assistance has been invaluable.

We wish our graduating seniors well. We thank Alec Hurst for his service as our house director.

Denver Captures Its Ninth N.C.A.A. Hockey Championship

By David Waldstein, The New York Times
Published April 10, 2022

The Pioneers are now tied for most Division I men's college hockey titles with Michigan, the team they beat in overtime in the national semifinal round.

BOSTON — Ryan Barrow arrived at the University of Denver in the fall of 2017 from Banff, Alberta, months after its ice hockey team had won the N.C.A.A. Division I men's championship.

From upperclassmen and alumni, he had heard the great stories about how the 2017 team had won the university's eighth title, and he watched the highlight video so many times he had it practically memorized.

Barrow strove to replicate that achievement and help Denver draw into a tie for the most such championships, only to see the Pioneers disappointed over and over. But on Saturday night, in his 168th college game, at the end of his fifth college season, Barrow finally made it happen.

His team had been sluggish, seemingly unable to beat Minnesota State goalie Dryden McKay, the recent winner of the Hobey Baker Award as the top player in Division I men's hockey. But a little more than five minutes into the third period of the championship game, Barrow scored to make the score, 1-1, turning the game on its head.

Denver added four more goals, including Mike Benning's tiebreaker less than three minutes later, and ultimately two into an empty net, as Denver defeated Minnesota State, 5-1, in Boston to capture its ninth title.

Barrow, 25, will now have his own stories to tell, and a new video to memorize.

"I can't even remember how many times I watched the 2017 pump-up video of them winning the national championship," Barrow said. "It will be pretty sweet to watch my own now."

Denver's victory came in the same arena as its 2004 championship over Maine (Denver also won in Boston in 1960), and the Pioneers stayed in the same Sheraton hotel the 2004 team used.

"We'll be staying there every time we play here now," Coach David Carle said.

By beating Michigan in overtime in their semifinal on Thursday, Denver checked off its first goal of this Frozen Four: to ensure the Wolverines would not become the first team to win 10 titles.

The Wolverines were a formidable opponent, featuring 13 N.H.L. draft picks, including seven first-rounders and four of the top five picks from last July's draft. The Pioneers trailed by 1-0 in that game, too, but fought back to win on Carter Savoie's overtime goal. Carle's quest to get Denver that ninth title remained alive.

“Winning Thursday against Michigan, the team at nine, was a huge step in that direction,” Carle said.

Carle, 32, is only seven years older than Barrow. A former Denver recruit, Carle never hid from his players the significance of winning a 9th championship.

In 2008, after playing at Shattuck-St. Mary’s School in Faribault, Minn., Carle was set to follow his older brother — the N.H.L. player Matt Carle — and be a star player at Denver. It never worked out. At an N.H.L. scouting combine before David Carle’s freshman year of college, doctors discovered he had an enlarged heart muscle. He was diagnosed with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy, and he retired from playing.

But the university honored his scholarship, and George Gwozdecky, the coach at the time, made him an assistant coach while a student. After graduating in 2012, David Carle went to Green Bay to be an assistant coach in the United States Hockey League, a top junior ice hockey league, then returned to Denver two years later as an assistant to the new Pioneers coach Jim Montgomery. When Montgomery departed to coach the Dallas Stars in the N.H.L. in 2018, Denver took a chance on a confident and unusually experienced 28-year-old.

“That responsibility does not fall on me lightly,” David Carle said to explain why it meant so much to tie for most championships. “I owe a lot of what I have in my life to the university.”

For much of Saturday’s game, it did not appear that Carle or the Pioneers (31-9-1) would do it. Minnesota State (38-6-0) carried the balance of play, but could not cash in on numerous opportunities to add to its lead. Much of that was because of the work of Magnus Chrona, the team’s Swedish goaltender.

For two periods, it looked as if McKay, Minnesota State’s goalie, might add to his N.C.A.A. record of 34 career shutouts. But it was Chrona who stopped all but one of the 28 shots he faced, drawing the admiration of his teammates, whose languid start almost doomed them.

“For the first 40 minutes, I don’t think our team realized we were in the national championship game,” Barrow, who set Denver’s career games played record, said. “But he stood on his head.”

Once Barrow evened the score, Minnesota State all but collapsed — or, as Minnesota State Coach Mike Hastings described it, “started leaking oil.”

Massimo Rizzo’s goal extended Denver’s lead to 3-1 with under seven minutes to play. That was followed by the two empty-net goals.

At the final horn, the Denver players charged over the boards and onto the ice, tossing their gloves and sticks in the air and mobbing Chrona. Their goal had been achieved. Well, one of them, anyway.

“The ultimate goal,” Carle announced, “is to be the first one to 10.”

Overall, it was a great experience where IOTAs could gather and bond over some school spirit.

Iota built 25 bikes for Wish for Wheels

The brothers at Zeta Beta Tau were fortunate to work with @wishforwheels this morning. Together, we managed to assemble 25 bicycles that will be going to students in need!

Wish for Wheels is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that gives brand new bicycles and helmets to kids in low-income communities. Their unique model bundles corporate philanthropy, team building, and employee engagements through bike builds, to deliver brand new bikes to kids in the community. Their mission, through the gift of a new bicycle, is to transform the lives of kids from low-income families, broadening their scope for personal growth and a healthy lifestyle.

Thanks for helping us live up to to the challenge in our ritual and Credo to do service and charity.

President

Hi, my name is Aidan Vaughey and I am this year's chapter president of Iota. I am a third-year student from Princeton, New Jersey, and I am a student in the Daniels College of Business with a passion for event management. This year has been a major turnaround from the pandemic; I am grateful to say our chapter's operations are back in full swing. Whether it be our recruitment, philanthropy, brotherhood development, or social events, we have finally been able to enjoy our full programming again — something we have not experienced since 2019. For many, it is their first time fully experiencing what it means to be a ZBT, and we are in the process of rebuilding the chapter back to its strongest as it was years ago. We are also in the process of bringing back traditions that may have fallen by the wayside during the pandemic. We could not be more excited for what is to come for the Iota Chapter.

C, F & S,
Aidan Vaughey
Iota Chapter President

Finance Director

Hello everyone, my name is Aiden Belt. I took on the Finance Director position this February, and have enjoyed working closely with the chapter to get our money's worth this year! As we return back to our full programming, we have supported our brotherhood development programming, charitable events around campus, and enjoyed a full schedule of spring recruitment events. The chapter is looking forward to our ZBTahiti concert, a two-day Formal in Breckenridge, and our annual whitewater rafting spring retreat. We look forward to maintaining our sustainable budget so we may continue to reap the benefits of this brotherhood!

C, F & S,
Aiden Belt
Finance Director

Faculty Advisor

I am Greg Grauberger, the faculty advisor for ZBT. I work as an advisor at the Daniels College of Business and work closely with Daniels students and their families. My opportunity to serve for ZBT gives me the chance to branch out and enjoy the privilege of working with a group of brothers who are very visible and distinguished on campus. In the time I have been associated with ZBT, I have witnessed the energy and effort that the house places against all campus activities, creating well-rounded brothers who are creating meaningful, lifelong networks. As a priority, I want the current brothers to think back to the time that they joined ZBT, the commitment to stand shoulder to shoulder with their brothers, to respect and be there for them. Now, step back to re-examine that original commitment they made to themselves and to the others who are their ZBT family. Given that perspective, how can they personally extend and increase that commitment inside, and outside the ZBT community? What are some strategies and tactics to accomplish this academically, culturally, and socially? These will be some areas we explore in the future, and as parents and alums, your feedback is welcome.

I am very honored and flattered by the recognition, and to have been able to receive the Excellence, Chapter Faculty Adviser award in person. In my position in Daniels, I work with a lot of students, and a lot of Greek students, and each day I feel most fortunate to be connected specifically as a ZBT Brother with everyone individually, and as a group. It's a tremendous house, but one that has not even reached its potential academically, which is both a challenging and exciting proposition. While last night provides a snapshot for earned celebration, it also gives us the impetus to direct our momentum to the future and to visualize the accomplishments ahead of us.

Thanks again, and please give all the Brothers my sincere thanks at the upcoming chapter meeting.

Operations Director

Hi, my name is Liam Fitzgerald, and I am currently the Operations Director for the Iota Chapter at DU. I am a sophomore from Clarendon Hills, Illinois. I previously served as the Recruitment Director and Communications Director for the chapter. We are excited that we can finally have a normal year after two years of covid interruptions. The chapter is looking forward to ZBTahiti and Formal in May, as well as many other smaller events we have scheduled. We have been able to have a successful year and are looking forward to more success and programming in the future!

Programming Director

My name is Beck Duncan. I am currently a sophomore from Castle Rock, Colorado, and my main responsibilities include overseeing chair positions and their committees and facilitating and coordinating events and activities to ensure that the brothers are getting the most out of what Iota has to offer as we begin to finally move out of the covid pandemic I'm looking forward to all of the programming opportunities that will open up. It will be good to be able to return to some normalcy and be able to continue Iota's traditions and ensure that this chapter provides the best experience possible to our brothers. Some traditions that are returning are ZBTahiti, Wish for Wheels, and Get on the Ball.

Communications Director

Hello All! My name is Nihal Padhy, and I am the Communications Director of our Iota chapter. I am a freshman from Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; and I have loved my first year at The University of Denver so far. My role has been to communicate anything formal to our chapter as well as our higher ups and advisors, along with FSL and IFC as well. I keep up the rosters and help set up our chapter meetings as well as help my executive board out in anything they need. It has been very cool to have a great freshman year after the pandemic. We have been able to have our programming back and it has been awesome to be a part of the executive board this year. We have many plans for the spring with retreat, ZBTahiti, as well as formal! Very excited as our chapter grows and becomes closer together.

C, F & S,
Nihal Padhy
Communications Director

Social

Hello, my name is Xander Verity and I am from Denver, Colorado. I'm joined by Mac Dorsey as my fellow chairmen. Social events have finally made a return to the fraternity's programming as we have gotten out of the pandemic. Social events have always been a great way for the brothers to all come together and do fun things together as well as including the community in a safe and fun way. A couple of the great social events we had so far this year were the exchanges with Delta Gamma and Chi Omega. The brothers all had a great time and the sororities did as well. We are looking forward to another exchange with Delta Zeta coming up and hope to get in at least one more exchange this year. Something of excitement to the chapter is our large concert event ZBTahiti for the benefit of the Children's Miracle Network of Hospitals. We all worked very hard to advertise the event and excite our peers, so watching it come to fruition has been a dream come true. Social events are back in full swing and are here to stay.

Xander Verity and Mac Dorsey
Social Chairmen

Academics

Hello everybody, my name is Jackson Wilcox and I am the Academic chair of the Iota chapter. I have worked on getting the brothers that have not been as academically sound as they should be work on getting back on track. Specifically we have been working on scheduling and adding more time to studying where needed. The covid restrictions impacted our ability to gather and work as a brotherhood however I have been striving to bring that concept back. Overall I think we are on a positive trend other than a few outliers and will continue to work to decrease the gap between top mark and bottom mark.

Hi, I'm Josh Mittman and I'm a Junior here at the University of Denver from Westchester, NY. I'm currently Iota Chapters Brotherhood Development Director. I am tasked with the oversight of all education and development of the brothers through in-person and on-line education that will help develop the brotherhood and guide our brothers along THE JOURNEY. Being part of the ZBT community and the greater DU community has been enjoyable and rewarding. Being able to learn and grow together makes such a difference. I look forward to what lies ahead for the Iota Chapter. Our continued growth and development as young men and contributors to our Chapter and the greater community is only the beginning to the success that each of us will achieve.

Brotherhood Overwatch

Hello, I am Milo Waltenbaugh, and I am currently serving as the Brotherhood Overwatch chair. This quarter, we have held successful brother support meetings weekly. Average attendance was roughly 15 guys each meeting. Later this quarter we are holding meetings with mental health and sexual assault awareness professionals during chapter. This will be a good way for the brothers to connect about certain issues and learn more about important topics. Personally, I have enjoyed listening to my brothers' problems and offering my support. I feel like we have a very strong community which allows most people to feel comfortable enough to share what they are going through.

Athletics

My name is Mac Dorcey and I am the current athletic chairman. I was very excited to take over this role, especially to get the ball rolling toward our regularly scheduled programming after the pandemic. With intramural sports back, both myself and the other members are excited to be involved in the provided sports. We have plans to have further involvement, as well as some friendly competition with our brothers at Boulder. I'm currently enjoying my role, however small, and look forward to bringing more to the table

Public Relations

Hi, my name is Kasey Damon and I am the social media coordinator for Zeta Beta Tau at the University of Denver. As the head of social media, I manage the public image of our fraternity and document important events in a digital media space. This includes Instagram and facebook posts as well as continual upkeep of the website. With this role, I have grown to understand the value of history and documentation, and have been able to immerse myself in Zeta Beta Tau's rich heritage. I enjoy being able to keep a record of my fraternity's living history.

Alumni/Parental Relations

Hi, our names are David Cope and Gideon Kroutil and we are the Parent/Alumni chair for Iota. We are officially out of the COVID restrictions that have halted us from having in-person events for so long. We look forward to bringing back events like poker nights and networking opportunities with Alumni. These events are significant because they preserve the heritage and relationships formed across time with ZBT Iota. We hope to be in contact soon and if you ever want updates on alumni events please call or text us at 417-536-4277 (Gideon Kroutil) or 650-656-5346 (David Cope).

Sexual Assault Prevention

Hello, my name is Britt Wasson, and I am the Sexual Assault and Prevention Chair. I regularly work with other brothers who hold leadership positions to distribute valuable resources to all brothers about this very important topic. We have also organized a chapter-wide meeting with CAPE, which is the University of Denver's Center for Advocacy, Prevention, & Empowerment so that we can all be in attendance for their very important informational presentation. Please feel free to reach out if you ever have any questions at 918-378-5929 or by e-mail at britt.wasson@du.edu.

Risk Prevention & Wellness

Hello, my name is Braden Meese and I am from Norwalk, Connecticut, and my name is Declan Crouth and I am from Glenview, Illinois. As we come out of the global pandemic, risk prevention has been one of the top priorities for our chapter this year. This year and the year to come, the Risk Prevention team will continue to do our best to be our brother's keepers. One of the things we have done this year is having a guest speaker, Michael Bunker, the director of campus safety, come to speak to the brothers at one of our chapter meetings. Another thing we have done is refresh brothers on risk and harm reduction protocols.

Braden Meese and Declan Crouth

Provost

Hello, my name is Matthew Mooney and I'm from Redondo Beach, California and my name is Peyton Weeter and I'm from Flower Mound, Texas. Our duties include teaching our newest brothers the history of ZBT, our credo, expectations, standards and most importantly what it means to be a member ZBT. We decided to take over the Provost position because we believe it's important the members of the chapter understand who we are as brothers of ZBT and to learn about the great brothers that came before us. The Provost(s) has a key role in the development of new brothers as they will soon be the next role models for our chapter.

Community Service

Hello! My name is Kiran Powers and I am a freshman from Minneapolis, Minnesota. So far, I have been given the opportunity to create and organize many events for my brothers which have all been able to be in person despite COVID. Despite my relatively short time being in the position, we have done an event with the park and rec board, a continuing sock drive, and Get On The Ball fundraising. This quarter we are doing two big events in Wish for Wheels and the Blood Drive which will both be happening in May. I am looking forward to continuing my work as community service chair and creating meaningful events for my brothers.
