Brother Marc Nathanson - Distinguished Speaker Series

Brother Nathanson's discussion is titled: Becoming a Successful Entrepreneur. He will be discussing the "13 Tips on How to be an Entrepreneur" based on his life's experiences of running four successful businesses and one government agency. He will discuss the traits and skills needed to be a successful entrepreneur. This will include "war stories" about starting a small cable company in 1975 and selling it in 1999 for $3.7 billion dollars and his current adventures of building the world leader in waterless urinals. From the media business to urinals, he will hold nothing back as far as the ups and downs of being a successful international businessman.
