IOTA CHAPTER # 1 at DU!

IOTA ADVISORS' UPDATE

This fall has been another record one at IOTA. We now are a brotherhood of over 110 men. The brothers not only had a successful recruitment, but completed over 1000 hours of community service, raised nearly $10,000 for Children's Miracle Network, placed 14 men on the Dean's List last spring, have started their march to their fourth consecutive intramural championship, have a brother serving as IFC's president and one as a student senator, and much more. We are very proud of our undergraduates and their success in and outside of the classroom.

This winter quarter the chapter will be hosting a Safe, Smart Dating program with the women of Alpha Phi. We will also be welcoming DU's new Chancellor Rebecca Chopp to a chapter gathering.

As we approach IOTA's 100th anniversary of our founding in 1920 we are excited about our future as A Powerhouse of Excellence at DU.

My thanks to all of my fellow advisors for their efforts in mentoring and supporting our undergraduates and thanks to Jay Reano for his efforts on alumni events in Denver and Gregg Witt for those in Chicago.

We are also thrilled that so many IOTAs are now involved as board members with the national fraternity and foundation as well as serving as local chapter advisors for groups around the country. These brothers are living the ritual by doing brotherhood, always.

Zeta Beta Tau — A Fraternity Without Pledging Since 1989

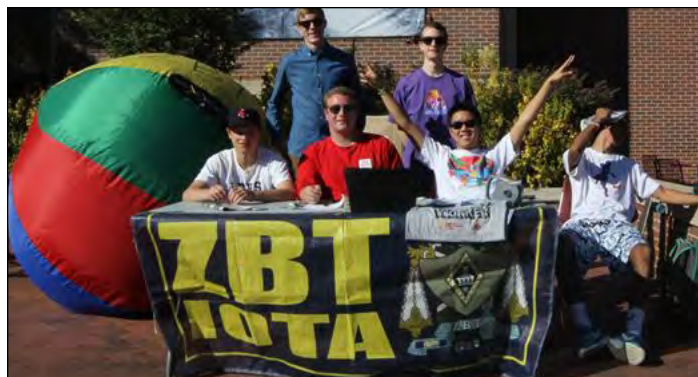

25 years ago, Zeta Beta Tau made history by becoming the first fraternity to abolish pledging and remove all two-tier membership practices. Today, that decision is more relevant than ever as fraternities, sororities, colleges and universities, and other student organizations discuss ways to eliminate hazing practices.

Letter from the President

Fall quarter was a very important quarter for this, the Iota, chapter. Our recruitment team, lead by John Kopec, recruited and initiated 34 members. This recruitment class increased the chapter size to a campus high of 113 brothers. After recruitment, we continued our great quarter with raising almost $10,000 for Children's Miracle Network. Austin Oberfeld and his committee worked hard all summer to make sure this Get on the Ball was successful. Thanks to all alumni and parents that helped us raise the money for the kids! My Vice Presidents, Stephen Stanis and Scott Graham have been working hard all quarter to keep our brothers busy with events including exchanges, socials, mini golf, go karts, movies, trips to the deli, and many more things. They are currently busy planning ZBTahiti and Formal, which will both occur in spring quarter. During all of these things, Iota has been winning lots of Intramural Sports including bringing home the championship in soccer. Our GPA was once again above the all men's average at the university and Dominic Italia has been doing a great job keeping this chapter focused on academics. Last but not least, I would like to give a thank you to Christian Thorndal Nielsen and Peter Throckmorton for the effort at their jobs that can sometimes be thankless. As we look ahead to elections this quarter, I can confidently say we have many brothers looking to run that will do great things for this chapter. Things have been going very well lately at the Iota chapter and that is due to all of the hard work of all the brothers here.

Go Blackhawks,

C, F & S,

Nick Young

President of Zeta Beta Tau's Iota Chapter

Vice-Presidents

Wow, fall quarter went by fast! Throughout the whirlwind, we were proud of the events that took place this past quarter. The recruitment chair, John Kopec, and his committee laid the groundwork for our outstanding fall rush throughout the summer, and their hard work certainly paid off with 34 new brothers, pushing Iota well over the century mark. Community Service also hit a new high, with the chapter completing over 1,000 combined hours this quarter. Alumni football was a great success, although unfortunately the alumni did pull off a win with a strong showing from the recent graduates, and a surprise-rushing touchdown from Steve. There has been a lot for Iota to be excited about in the past half year, and we are confident we are set up to reach many new highs in the near future.

C, F & S,

Scott Graham

External Vice President

This quarter has had its share of benchmarks for the Iota chapter of Zeta Beta Tau – we've hit new highs in what seems to be every committee in the fraternity. With the initiation of 34 new brothers, our Traditions and Rituals committees had their hands full, but performed well above expectations. Our Rituals committee, led by Josh Lansky, did a tremendous job of hosting our initiation in the university's Gottesfeld Room, bringing the new brothers into the fraternity with class. Our Traditions committee, tasked with organizing our retreats, helped to bond this class to the rest of the fraternity, aided greatly by our BDD events and the bi-weekly fraternity lessons held by our Provost, Layne Hopkins. Perhaps our most impressive committee this fall, however, was Philanthropy. Austin Oberfeld and his committee took it upon themselves to raise the bar of this fraternity's philanthropic efforts, and to use the chapter's now over 100 manpower to achieve their high goals. With Austin and his committee, as well the entire fraternity, supporting this effort, we were able to raise over $10,000! It was an amazing thing to see as a senior how far the fraternity has come in all aspects of fraternity life, and I look forward to more progress the rest of this year and beyond.

It's great to be a Zebe!

C, F & S,

Stephen Stanis

Internal Vice President

Brotherhood Education

Hello, my name is Layne and I currently hold the position of Provost within the fraternity. As the Provost I am responsible for the education of the chapter as a whole. This includes inviting speakers to chapter, having leadership workshops, and running new brother education for freshman during their first quarter in the chapter. Over the last year we have had speakers that include the Chancellor, DU Career Services, a MS society representative and Campus Safety. I personally believe that these speakers provide a unique learning opportunity for the chapter because they teach us about leadership, heritage, and show us what our philanthropy goes to. I also believe that it is important to help the junior and senior classes find potential jobs while also helping the freshman and sophomore classes prepare for the future. This is why I try to have a workshop or speaker that is focused on the future each quarter. This quarter DU career services will be coming to the chapter and informing brothers about their program. The DU career services is an excellent program that can provide job opportunities with Goldman Sachs, JP Morgan, Arrow Electronics, and many other organizations.

Speakers are a critical part of the development of our chapter, but it is brotherhood that truly makes up the roots of our fraternity. ZBT has been a very progressive chapter throughout its history. In 1954 ZBT opened its doors to men of all creeds, religions, and race and in 1989 ZBT tossed aside its pledge process and eliminated hazing. This has led to a truly unique education experience that creates brotherhood through true bonding instead of a two tier system. I have spent the last year revamping the education program to focus on supporting freshman as they transition through one of the largest transitions in their life. New brother education now focuses on informing them about the history of the chapter and the general information they need to know about Greek Life while also supporting them through their first year of school. The education experience begins with new brother education where freshman are reminded that school comes before everything. In the end we are here to gain an invaluable education. It also focuses on being socially aware, having integrity, and creating a strong brotherly bond. While new brother education is the core program of our education it never ends there. I have had the honor of watching everyone from the freshman to the seniors grow throughout my three years in this chapter and I truly believe that the Iota chapter has positively influenced every individual in the chapter.

C, F & S,
Layne Hopkins
Provost

Brotherhood

My name is Nathan Bracy and I am the Brotherhood Development chair for Zeta Beta Tau's Iota chapter. I'm a senior and joined ZBT in the winter of 2012. As Brotherhood Development (or BDD) chair, my duties are to keep my brothers interested and engaged in ZBT. Ultimately, if a brother is thinking about dropping the fraternity it is my job to gauge what went wrong. On a daily basis, I look for fun and interesting activities for the fraternity to do together. For example, we have gone to play mini-golf, paintballing, played laser tag, bowling, and other events.

In addition to this, the BDD chair works with the Provost, or the new brother educator, to create lesson plans and teach the new brothers about their fraternity. Lastly, I try to make myself available to all brothers in case they need advice or anything along those lines.

C, F & S,
Nathan Bracy
Brotherhood Development Chairman

Parent/Alumni Relations

This past fall quarter was yet another fun quarter here with the Iota chapter. As the chairmen of parent and alumni relations I had the pleasure of helping organize several events throughout the quarter. We had our annual fall alumni football game and am sad but not surprised to say that the alumni took home yet again another win as they have had great success in years past against the undergraduate team. We had a great turnout for our alumni poker event as well at our house. Parents weekend was great to see so many parents come out and see the house and meet many of our brothers, following our hockey team's win against Boston College that night! Overall it was a great fall quarter and I am looking forward to this coming winter. My job as chairmen is to help keep parents and alumni connected with what is going on with the Iota. As always if you ever have any questions or possible suggestions for parent and alumni events please reach out to me at jeffhauser05@gmail.com.

C, F & S,
Jeff Hauser
Alumni/Parental Relations Chairman

Academics

ZBT Iota once again showed its commitment to academic excellence this past quarter. Iota maintained one of the foremost overall GPA averages among fraternities at the University of Denver, and had a greater overall GPA than that of the DU all men's average. In the spring quarter of 2014, Iota was proud to name 13 brothers to the Dean's list. These brothers each had a GPA equal to or greater than 3.75 for the quarter. A major goal for this fall is to beat this already impressive number of brothers on Dean's list.

This quarter had a number of new brothers obtained from fall rush, each of which went through the new brother tradition of attending weekly study tables, as well as meeting with our faculty academic advisor, Greg Grauberger. New brothers were counseled on useful study habits and on ways of being proactive in their classes and in relationships with teachers. Brothers who were having difficulties meeting the ZBT Iota GPA requirement went through much the same process. They attended study tables and met with Mr. Grauberger. Helping these struggling brothers is one of the most important aspects of the Academics Chair position.

ZBT Iota is proud of its academic accomplishments, and aims to forever increase its academic quality. Iota will never relent in its efforts of sustaining a prestigious academic record.

Risk Management

Risk Management took another huge leap forward for the Zeta Beta Tau Fraternity Iota Chapter. We strived to set the right tone moving forward in the quarter by introducing to the new initiates what it means to be 'your brother's keeper', because all things aside, upon being initiated into this powerhouse of excellence, we become family. And family comes first. With this mindset, we implemented rules to manage our fraternity's social events in the most effective and efficient fashion. The risk management schedule was designed to ensure further bonding between brothers as a member from each class was always on staff, accentuating the need for brotherhood among all and the imperativeness for cooperation in order for success. In light of these adjustments, the brothers were very willing to raise their hand to help the risk management efforts without being asked, showing how far we've come in valuing safety and protecting our family!

C, F & S,
Alexander Hill
Risk Management Chairman

Athletics

Sports! We had yet another successful quarter of athletics competing in five sports. We had six teams playing in intramural soccer, flag football, volleyball, basketball, and broomball and co-rec broomball. The soccer team took there season all of the way to win the championship. Our football team also made it to the end of the season however lost in championship by a tragic one point. Overall it was a great season and we are on our way to yet another overall Greek athletic championship title.

In addition to intramural sports we also had in house games with our new athletic equipment. On any given day you can find a few brothers playing basketball on the court behind the house, but we also organized a brotherhood event, which brought out our new freshmen to participate in a tournament.

With winter quarter coming we will be participating in another season of intramural sports and heading to the mountains for some skiing and snowboarding. Hopefully without injuries on the fields or the slopes we will continue our pursuit of the overall Greek athletic championship!

C, F & S,
Grant Rotman
Athletic Chairman

Recruitment

As the fall quarter came to an end there were many great things to reflect on over fall quarter and look forward to for the rest of the year. With a total of 40 bids handed out, we not only had the best retention rate the University of Denver Iota chapter has ever had, but also the largest fall recruitment class in our history. We initiated exactly 34 new brothers this fall! Our chapter has continued to grow from last year and is still the largest fraternity on campus while still maintaining our standards as the number one fraternity at the DU.

This rush experience was a little bit different than the rush processes in the past due to some changes with IFC. This year we were allowed two on campus events and one off campus, which is one less on campus event from last year. Our on campus events included a BBQ on Friday and cigars and sandwiches or 'Stogies and Hoagies' on Sunday. In the past, indoor skydiving has been an extremely popular off campus event but we decided to change things up this fall by switching to Paintball. Paintballing could not have gone any better. It allowed for endless conversation with prospects and encouraged teamwork in the 10 vs. 10 games. With this outstanding bonding event and an overall great showing of both brothers and prospects, we will continue to do paintballing next year as our off campus event.

With fall recruitment passed, we have already begun planning for the winter. With the help of the E-Board and a brotherhood of well over one hundred brothers, we will continue to initiate quality men into our "Powerhouse of Excellence". I am extremely proud of this chapter and my committee with the results from this fall. With that being said, we are always accepting recruitment recommendations. If you know anyone interested or simply wants to see what Greek life has to offer, pass along their contact information via Kopec795@gmail.com or by cell phone (319) 899-2824.

Philanthropy

DO CHARITY. Always!

This quarter was a huge success with our Get On The Ball fundraiser. This fundraiser goes to the Children's Miracle Network to help support young children who cannot afford certain medical treatments. We were able to raise over $10,000! We could not have done it without the help and support of all the parents, alumni, and brothers of this chapter. I was thrilled with the success we had this past quarter am excited to start working on Red Nose Days our winter philanthropic event which supports the Children's Miracle Network.

C, F & S,
Austin Oberfeld
Philanthropy Chairman

Our House

A typical day as the housing director at Zeta Beta Tau fraternity is a thrilling ride through three floors that create our home. I wake up earlier than most brothers in the house, I walk around to see what I can find to put into that day's work orders. While my main job is to maintain the cleanliness, safety and efficiency of the house and I am there for the brothers. Being a young alumnus I find I can be a mentor to our younger brothers. Furthermore, I am the liaison between the housing corporation, cleaning crew, catering service and the University. I am an employee of DU. My job is straightforward; make sure the house is in a livable and safe condition for current and future brothers to enjoy a special place brothers before us have worked hard to maintain.

C, F & S,
Zach Baca
House Director

Our Rituals

This fall we were happy to initiate 34 new members to our brotherhood. For initiation ritual our advisors were able to attend. During retreat, new brothers were able to connect through old brothers stories and experiences. The rituals of ZBT Iota are continuing to bring out brotherhood closer together. As is a ZBT tradition we start each meeting with a reading from our Ritual. In planning our programming we are mindful that it should bring our ritual to life.

Interfraternity Council

This past quarter I continued to hold my position as president of the Interfraternity Council (IFC). Along with this position there was no Vice President of Recruitment, or Vice President of Risk Management slated, because of this I took on those two positions as well. This has been challenging but it has also encouraged excellence in myself, and in the ZBT Iota Chapter. While I am in this position I work to hold my chapter and my brothers to a higher standard in order to use ZBT as a role model, and standard setter for the rest of the Greek Community. In this position I have been lucky enough to realize all that our chapter is doing right, but also how we can improve. I have been able to work alongside our chapter president and chairs to get a better idea of what chapters want to see here on campus, and how I can help influence these changes. I hope to continue challenging ZBT, and to be challenge by my brothers as I move forward in this position.
